For diverse working environments

How do colors affect us? Each of us perceives colors differently and every color has its own unique effect on us.

At neudoerfler, we apply carefully considered color concepts in project planning for our clients. The endless nuances of tones influence our mood and thinking.

When used correctly, they create a feel-good atmosphere in everyday work life – for clients, employees and colleagues alike. Without colors, contrasts, patterns and textures, our daily life would be like a grey, overcast rainy day.

For us, colors are more than just a pleasant sight. They create a calming and refreshing work environment and promote productivity, communication and cohesion – for an office where you feel truly comfortable.

Wood

Wood is a natural product that lives and breathes. Every tree is unique, which means that wood and veneers naturally exhibit variations in color and grain. These characteristics are what give this material its charm, but they also entail certain limitations.

Through careful material selection and state-of-the-art manufacturing methods, we always strive to achieve the highest quality. Nevertheless, this natural product may still exhibit color variations and growth-related irregularities.

Veneer patterns vary from sheet to sheet depending on the cut and wood species. In general, wood types are only conditionally color-stable and may undergo color changes over time. These color changes are influenced by the following factors: UV light (natural light source), oxygen, heat, and chemicals.

Surface treatments such as lacquering, glazing, or staining can reduce color changes over time but cannot completely prevent them. These variations are not grounds for complaints but are characteristic features of a natural product.

To ensure you enjoy your wood product for as long as possible, proper handling is just as important as regular maintenance. If you have any questions, we are of course happy to assist you.

| Wood Type | Original Color                  | Color Change under UV Exposure  | Intensity       |

Fabric

For more warmth and design flexibility in the office.

Upholstered furniture and fabrics are much more than just additions to office furnishings. They bring warmth and comfort to the space, create a homely atmosphere, and significantly enhance well-being in everyday work life..

Through their colors, textures, and feel, fabrics offer a wide range of design possibilities and create individual accents – from subtle to striking. This makes offices not only functional but also inspiring and inviting.

An overview of our current fabric collection can be found on our website at www.neudoerfler.com/catalogs
